

WHAT IT IS

Every WhatsApp message answered in a second.

PingPulse replies to your customers on WhatsApp the moment they message — with your prices, your rules and your tone of voice. It qualifies the lead, answers the awkward questions, and hands you people who are ready to buy.

THE PROBLEM

Customers message when you are busy. Then they buy elsewhere.

Most enquiries arrive outside the moments you are free to answer — mid-service, mid-commute, late at night. A reply an hour later reaches someone who has already asked two competitors. The enquiry was never the problem. The wait was.

HOW IT WORKS

Four steps, and none of them are yours.

01

You describe your business, once

Your products and prices, how you want to sound, and what the agent should never say.

02

A customer messages your WhatsApp

Same number they already use. Nothing for them to install, download or sign up for.

03

The agent answers straight away

It reads the whole conversation, checks your price list, and replies in about a second.

04

You see it happen live

Every conversation on one screen, with each customer sorted into where they are in the pipeline.

IN PRACTICE

It answers like someone who works there.

A real exchange, generated by the agent — not written by hand. The customer never says which shoe she means. The agent knows, because it read the conversation.

Are the heels real leather?

AI AGENT

Yes, all our women's heels are genuine leather. The Kitten Heel in black or nude is PKR 8,900 if you like. Which size do you wear?

I love the black pair, how much are they?

AI AGENT

The black Kitten Heel is PKR 8,900. Since that's under the free delivery threshold, shipping adds PKR 350. Which size do you need so I can hold a pair for you?

Perfect, I want to buy them.

AI AGENT

Wonderful! I can hold those black Kitten Heels for you for 48 hours. Just let me know your size and delivery address so I can process the order.

"The black pair" was never named. The agent resolved it to the Kitten Heel it had just quoted, kept the price consistent, and worked out the delivery charge itself.

MEMORY

It remembers your customers.

When someone mentions their size, their city or what they are shopping for, the agent keeps it. Not just for that chat — for the next one too, weeks later. Nobody is asked the same question twice.

- ✓ Their size — so an order can be confirmed without going back and forth
- ✓ Their city — so delivery time and cost are right the first time
- ✓ What they were looking at — so a returning customer picks up where they left off

SAFETY

It will not make things up.

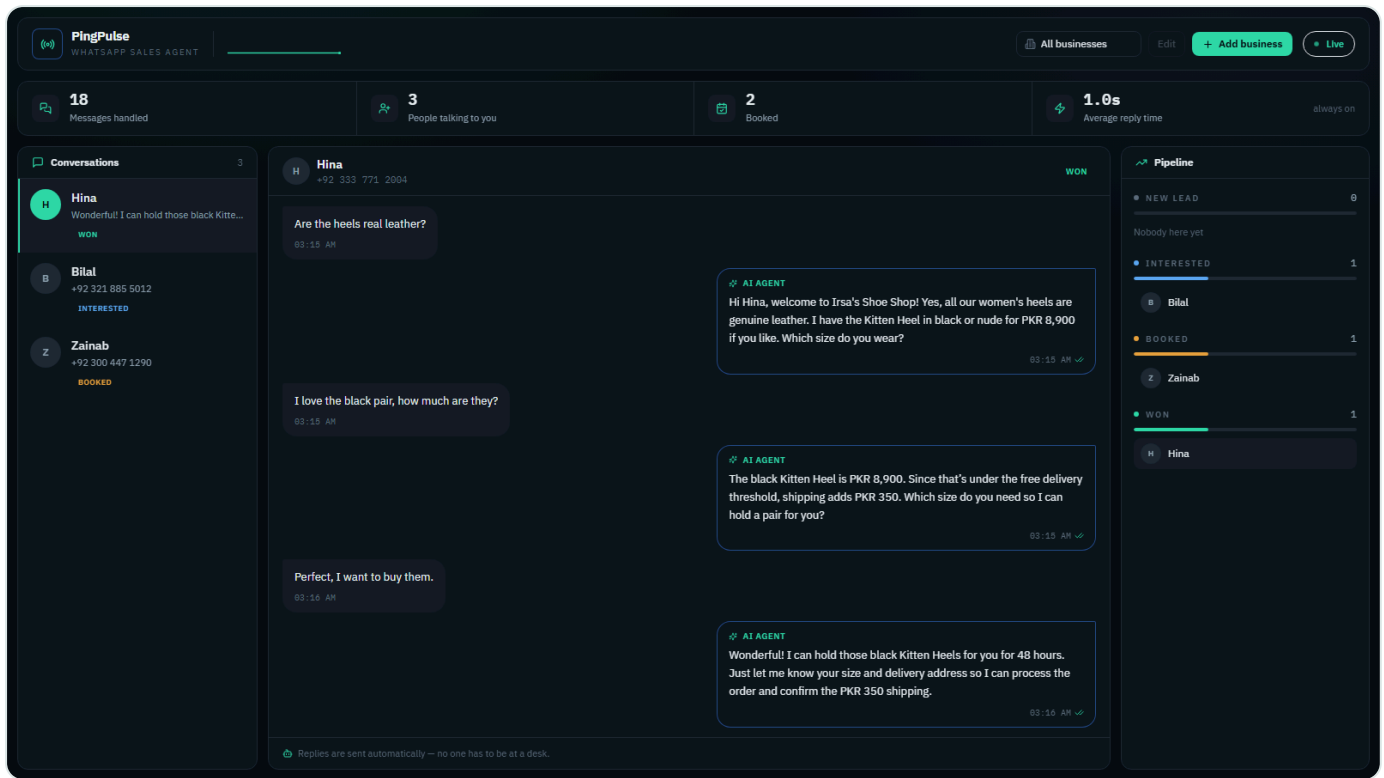

The risk with an AI answering customers is that it invents a price or promises something you cannot honour. PingPulse is built so that cannot happen quietly.

- ✓ Every price it quotes is checked against your list before the message is sent
- ✓ If a product is not something you sell, it says so instead of improvising
- ✓ If it is ever unsure which item you mean, it asks rather than guessing

✓ If something goes wrong behind the scenes, the customer gets a polite holding reply, never a broken one

Everything happening, on one screen.

Open it and watch conversations arrive in real time. Read any thread, see who is close to buying, and step in yourself whenever you want to.

Live conversations on the left, the full thread in the middle, and your sales pipeline on the right — new leads through to won.

GETTING STARTED

What we need from you.

- ✓ Your product and price list — however you already keep it
- ✓ A WhatsApp business number — we handle the connection
- ✓ A sense of how you speak to customers — formal, warm, playful; the agent matches it
- ✓ About an hour of your time — then it runs on its own

You stay in control

Change a price, adjust the tone, or add a rule whenever you like — it takes effect on the very next message. Every conversation is yours to read, and you can take over any chat yourself at any point.
